

The Brickmakers Arms Building was established in 1853 and ran as a successful hotel for years, quenching the thirst of many locals.

Having gone through many changes of face and surviving two fires, the Brickmakers Arms Building finally closed its doors and remained closed for nearly 12 years.

Brickmakers Arms was in much need of a face lift and given a new lease on life and a new name, Ten One Ate Café, when it reopened it's doors in February of 2016.

It has been no surprise that it sparked interest from the locals who were keen to see the doors open and start serving the community again, this time as a more laid back cafe. Whether you're looking for a delicious healthy feed or a more indulgent meal, our menu covers all your bases.

Ten One Ate offers a beautifully renovated Cellar which can be reserved for private dining for up to twenty two guests or for small cocktail parties. The venue is also available for functions outside of trading hours, with a range of menu and drink options available.

Enclosed are various packages designed to give flexibility and variety for your function needs.

Please contact us if you have any enquiries, or would like to make an appointment to view the layout of the cafe and discuss the needs for your function.

Kind Regards,

Ten One Ate
